While we're talking about mom - a recipe...

Green Onion Pancakes.

As a yummy snack or an appetizer, a plate of these won't last long. They are easy to whip up and showcase the fresh green onions that are plentiful at the market this time of year.

Green Onion Pancakes

Yield: 4

Ingredients

1 large egg

2 teaspoons sesame oil (For a real treat try toasted sesame oil)

8 egg roll wraps

4 teaspoons sesame seeds

1 cup finely chopped green onion (Both the white and green parts)

2 tablespoons peanut oil, vegetable oil, or sunflower oil

Soy sauce, (optional) to taste

Directions

Beat the egg and sesame oil together.

Brush one side of one egg roll wrapper with the egg mixture.

Sprinkle with 1/4 green onions and 1 tsp sesame seeds.

Brush one side of another egg roll wrapper and press wet side on top of the other one and press down to seal.

Repeat for other 3 pancakes.

Heat 1 tbsp oil on medium high heat.

Fry each side of each pancake for about 2 minutes til golden brown.

Add more heat as necessary.

Cut each into 6 pieces.

Can serve with soy sauce.
